Upon searching his name, I hope that the achievements that he has reflect the knowledge that we will gain from him.

This year, I want to learn more about

Since the course handles Java, I'd hope to learn more about it's syntax.

1 I've read that it's familiar with C, and from sample codes I am able to trace it, but I am excited to actually learning it from my professor.

2 I'm particularly excited about the OOP part of Java, especially the four pillars, since I've only read about and am somewhat familiar with the topic, but haven't applied it yet.

3 Java specializes in app development, which I want to learn as someone striving to be a game developer. Together with my commitment to learning programming languages, as well as my interest in designing, I believe I could create something useful with the knowledge that I will gain cumulatively.
